Addressing the unique risks of government contractors

With crucial responsibilities like security, defense and the integrity of your communications systems, you're faced with a wide range of risks. That's why you need insurance solutions from a carrier that understands your unique requirements. Our industry team members are dedicated to knowing the ins and outs of every industry we serve, so you get the specialized underwriting, risk management and claims experience to make sure you're ready for anything.

In sync with your rapidly changing needs

Over 30 years of experience insuring government contractors has made us specialists in your area of the tech sector. We understand it's a field of great consequence; a fire can consume years of painstaking research as well as property. And a serious technical wrongful act can place a population at risk. We'll help you manage your complex risks securely and effectively with comprehensive product offerings and reliable service.

Workers' compensation. We offer a vast dataset and a unique perspective about injured workers and how to get them back to work healthy, faster:

- Preferred medical provider network: Employees can tap into our nationwide network of more than one million providers experienced in treating workplace injuries.
- Prescription drug features: More than 68,000 participating pharmacies throughout the U.S. are available to fill prescriptions, usually with no out-of-pocket expense to the injured worker. The convenience of mail order service is just a phone call or click away.
- Nursed back to health: The Hartford provides highly experienced nurse case managers to help coordinate care and treatment along with physical, emotional and occupational therapies.
- Pay-as-you-go billing solutions: This workers' compensation billing solution bases premium payments on actual payroll, which can help you manage cash flow and reduce audit surprises.

General liability. Our broad liability coverage through our General Liability Choice® form includes additional insureds when required by contract. It also features a blanket waiver of subrogation—an important provision often needed by government contractors.

Product liability. This coverage helps protect your company from third-party liability claims involving your products. Includes coverage for component parts or products manufactured to government/military specs, and products or services provided to the military/government.

Property Choice®. We've expanded coverage for your business personal property, buildings and business income, and more. You also get valuable protection for computer equipment, media and data and utility services interruption.
